Location

Vijayawada, the Capital city of Andhra Pradesh, is aesthetically located on the banks of the River Krishna and is historically a cultural, political and educational center. The Krishna River, its tributary budameru and three major canals make the city the Venice of the East. Vijayawada railway junction is one of the major links to other parts India. The presiding deity Goddess Kanaka Durga reigns supreme atop the Indrakiladri hills. Besides being rich in commercial and academic activities. The city is well connected by road and air too. Dr. K. L. Rao, a world renowned Civil Architect and many famous personalities in Literary, Art, Music and Cultural wings also hail from the city. Historically also, Vijayawada retains its fame and name. Victoria Jubilee Archaeological museum, Undavalli Caves, Kondapalli Fort, Amaravathi, a famous Buddhist center, kuchipudi where this particular classical dance originated and Bhavani Islands amidst the Krishna, proudly speak many a laurels of Vijayawada. The climate in December is quite conducive for a pleasant stay.

About K L University

KL University is a pioneer in the field of Engineering education and research in the state of Andhra Pradesh. It's knowledge base stems from the presence of highly qualified academic staff that brings with them rich Industrial, Research and teaching experience. The departments are fully equipped to take advanced research in wide range of fields like Energy, Bio-Technology, Nano-materials and Engineering. The University research activities are supported by sponsored projects from Government agencies like DST, DBT and DRDO. The Center for Advanced Energy Studies (CAES) of University concentrate on development of materials and systems to enhance the use of Alternate Energy Sources.

About the Department:

The Department of Computer Science & Engineering at KL University is recognized for Preeminence in teaching, research and service to profession. The department has a fine amalgam of renowned as well as young and dynamic personalities as faculty is playing an avant-grade role in providing quality education at both under graduate and post graduate level.

Workshop Theme:

Model-Driven Development (MDD) is an approach to the development of IT systems in which models take a central role, not only for analysis of these systems but also for their construction. MDD has emerged from modelling initiatives, most prominently the Model-Driven Architecture (MDA) fostered by the Object Management Group (OMG).

The objective of the National Workshop on Model-Driven Engineering and Software Development, is to provide a platform for researchers, academicians as well as industrial professionals working on various platforms from all over India to discuss their research results and development activities in using models and model driven engineering techniques for Software Development.

Topics Covered in NWMESD but not limited to:

- Modern Languages, Tools and Architectures
- Meta Modeling
- Model Driven & Service Oriented Software
- Agile Model driven development
- Model Driven Project Management
- Component based Software Engineering
- Test Driven Software Development

Participants

Faculty members, Research scholars, PG/UG students and Professionals of R&D institutions/ organizations.

Registration fee details
